

This is the landing page of delivery person, where the landing page consist of route map, along with basic customer info along with option to call, alongside the map, there will be list of routes where delivery person can select accordingly, and below map there is a camera icon where the delivery person can capture the picture post delivery.

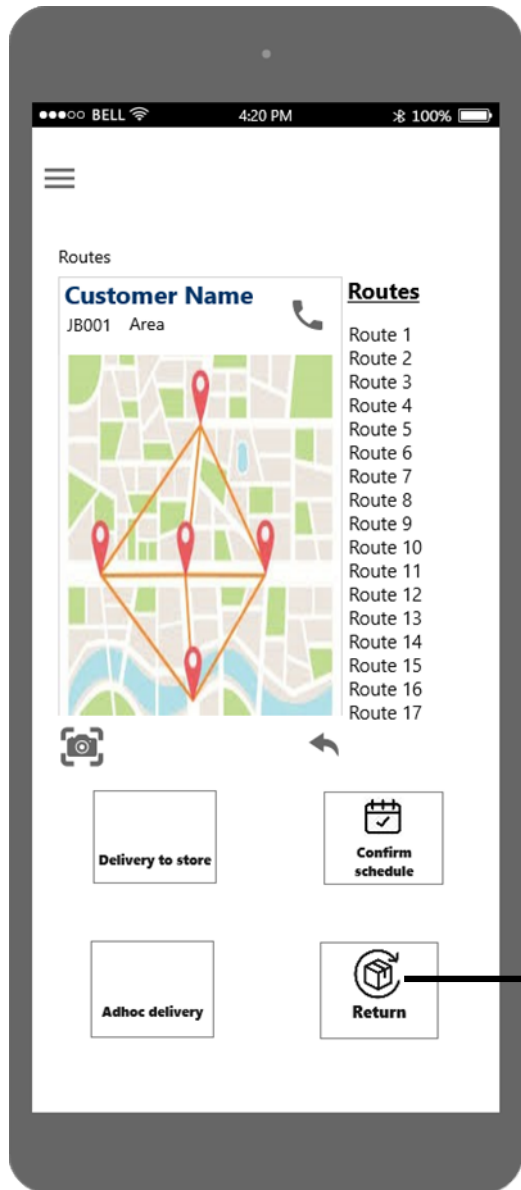

By tapping on confirm schedule there will be a popup menu where it enable the delivery person to accept the assignments for next day.

By tapping on ad-hoc delivery we will be routed to this page where we'll find the glance information about the delivery

By tapping on particular tab we will be routed to this page where we'll find more information about the delivery.

The image shows a mobile application interface on a tablet, titled 'Returns'. At the top, there's a hamburger menu icon. The form contains the following fields: 'Date:' with the value '01/21/2021', 'Quantity:' with a text input field, 'Customer Name:' with a text input field, 'Route:' with a dropdown menu, and 'Reason:' with a dropdown menu. At the bottom, there is a 'Submit' button.

By tapping on returns we will be routed to this page where it enables the delivery person to provide information on delivery return by entering requested data.